Accommodate different learning styles, capabilities, and levels.

✓ Reading levels, user navigation, type of content and amount of content are carefully curated and tailored to meet students at each given stage of their learning journey. Core products build on each other to grow with students from K-12.

✓ Every article has a read-aloud feature with word-by-word highlights.

✓ An interactive pop-out dictionary defines unknown words for students in articles with the click of a mouse or tap on a touchscreen.

✓ All articles can be translated into over 100 languages.

✓ Students can access content in a variety of formats to best meet their individual learning style- read articles, watch videos, look at historical maps, listen to sounds, and more!

Enhance research with built-in tools

✔ Every article on Kids, Student, and Advanced has built-in citations, found in the Tools menu or at the bottom of the article.

✔ You'll also find a Citation Builder on Student and Advanced, where students can cite external sources.

✔ Stay organized with My Research, a "virtual backpack" where students can save all types of content into various project folders.

✔ How to do Research on Student walks kids through the process of completing a research project, giving helpful tips and guidance along the way.

Make content easy to find with direct links

Are students used to finding classwork on a different platform? Work World Book content into the platforms you already use.

Simply copy the URL of the picture, article, game, or activity and post it outside of World Book. If students are logged in, they will be taken directly to the resource.

For eBooks, use this list of direct links or find the eBook URL under "More Info" within the platform.
